An institute which can answer all your questions law related.

Jersey Construction Council

JeCC occupies a unique role within the Jersey construction industry. The breadth and depth of its membership means that JeCC is the only body able to speak with authority on the diverse issues connected with construction without being constrained by the self-interest of any particular sector of the industry.

A strong, healthy local construction industry is vital to the future economic success of Jersey as a whole. We provide the facilities and premises needed by the Island – Health, Education and other Social facilities serving the community in general plus premises the finance, retail, tourism and other industry sectors need to operate effectively. We are the fourth most important industry in Jersey with over 5,300 employees amounting to 1 person in every 10 of the working population depending on construction for their livelihood.

JT has a history of developing innovative products, its IoT division, created 2014 was sold for a record sum in 2021 and the company continues to invest in other emerging technology products and services, such as Fraud Protection.

Agriculture – Royal Jersey Agricultural & Horticultural Society

The Society is a private organisation founded in 1833 and incorporated by an Act of the States of Jersey in 1884. It has subscribing members and no beneficial owners. It is a not-for-profit organisation governed by a Council of elected members with General Committees that manage the affairs of the two departments; agriculture and horticulture.

Throughout its long existence the RJAHS has shown itself to be a resilient organisation, prepared to adapt and move with the times. Especially so these last two decades. By remaining relevant and in tune with the attitudes and interests of Islanders it has carved an essential place for itself, a jewel in Jersey's crown, enjoyed by thousands every year. But still, at the very centre of its being is the guiding principle to promote and celebrate the island's rural traditions and natural bounty, not least the wonderful Jersey Cow.

Government of Jersey

The Government of Jersey has many different departments from the Chief Operating Office, Legal Services, Children & Young People, External Relations to Finance. On an annual basis the Government recruit new talent to many of these departments on trainee roles and apprenticeships.

Hospitality

The Hospitality industry is vast and can be broken down into separate sectors. The top four sectors consist of 'Food & Beverage', Accommodation, 'Travel & Tourism & 'Entertainment & Recreation'.
